Caring for Older Adults with Acute Leukemia in North Carolina: Updates for 2023

Daniel Richardson, MD, MA, MSc

Assistant Professor

Division of Hematology

UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center

UNC School of Medicine

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Webinar Description

Daniel Richardson, MD, MA, MSc, will explore best practices to approach the care of older adults with leukemia. He will also discuss novel therapeutic options for patients with acute lymphoblastic and acute myeloid leukemia alongside practical considerations to approach shared decision-making.

Learning Objectives

- Distinguish between front-line options for older adults with acute myeloid leukemia based on disease characteristics, frailty, and patient preference.
- Identify the two recent developments in acute myeloid leukemia that have moved the field to consider waiting for molecular testing to make treatment decisions.
- Describe treatment options for older adults with Ph+ acute lymphoblastic leukemia.
- Discuss the benefits of geriatric assessment for older adults with leukemia.
